46		Md Zafar Ali	I have just checked the Provisional list of the candidates not fit for the further process and found that i am not eligible just due to not having full time Graduation in Computer Science. I would like to say why such qualification can only validate our eligibility when there is Online course certification of NPTEL (Support by Government and IT Industry)and many mores are available. Candidates skill can not be illustrated best by Degree only. There should be exam(for technical skill fulfilment) as IT field change frequently and for the one to be productive in this field will only stand through the Updated skills, we can't expect the Updated skills through degree, degree only represent you have jumped into the world of IT but for surviving there totally require up to date package and that can be gain only through willingness to learn. I have experience in the Data Analyst work of 2.7 year and got disappoint by your decision to consider only FULL Time degree for such post which is totally irrelevant. For growth we need to enhance our consideration and selection process. I would like to hear from you and thanking you in anticipation for your time and consideration in reviewing my grievances.	As per the eligibility criteria, Candidates with full time Degree can only be considered for the role. 150	17104196	Nishant Tiwary	I've total experience of more than 2.5 years and received 5 marks as Re-validated Score and Online Score is 0. Clarification Needed for : How is this calculated ?? As I can see people with 5 years of experience have got 25 marks and people with 6 years of experience have got 30 marks for the same. As per this logic I should be getting 10 marks and above, as I have 2.5 years of total experience. Preferred marking on total post qualification experience as a data or business analyst: Max 50 marks 5 marks for each additional Year 2 Though I'm happy with the score but not completely satisfied with the interview marks. I was asked only one question on my work experience and I had explained as expected. How does marks allocated(Interview Marks is 7) can be justified?? curious to know !! Interview Marks Let me know if any further information is needed on the same.	We request the candidate to go through preferred marking criteria published on website www.mancerbvm.com to get more clarity on marking scheme. 5 marks have been awarded based experience based on additional completed years of experience above 1 year of minimum required experience.
